Hogs are dying in Harrison county of sore throat.

It is only unmarried women whose "no" means "yes."

The Hotel de Rhoades is to receive a new roof this week.

Look out, Blackburn, Underwood is coming, coming, coming!

A boiler explosion near Dunbar, Penn., killed three men on the 26th ult.

Spare-ribs and back-bones are plentiful, and sell at two cents per pound.

The girl who angers for men never catches anything better than mullets.

When a woman buys a ruche she always makes a ruff calculation as to the cost.

We have a real newsy letter from our correspondent at Stephensport in this issue.

Of course you like the windy, blustering weather, girls; it brings you plenty of chaps.

Jim, the porter at the Cloverport Hotel, says they set an extortionate dinner at his house.

The gutter on Bowmer & Hambleton's corner needs opening. Whose business is it to attend to it.

Ezel Beaconsfield is one of the silent men in private life. When he does talk, he talks only to the point and avoids ladies' society.

The photograph is like the small brother of a young lady, it will repeat everything said in its presence without regard to bluntness.

We learn from the Union Local that Mr. Charles A. Board, of the Morganfield bar, was married to Mrs. Katie Ferguson on the 14th ultimo.

A negro got drunk and insulted everybody in Uniontown, one day last week, and closed up the day's work by getting shot and dying that night.—Ez.

A man in Cairo has sued for a divorce on the ground that his wife was too fat. This reminds us that we know of some wives who had better hold up on the eat a little.

We heard somebody say that somebody else said that some of our Cloverport girls were going to marry Christmas. That's right, girls, nothing enlivens a community like a wedding.

Ex-Governor Curtis, of Penn., who has been quite ill for some time, and who was defeated for Congress last November by a Greenbacker, will contest the seat of Yeom, his opponent.

Shooting, cutting, rapping, stealing, burning, eloping, swindling, defaulting, hanging, mobbing, betting, drinking, lying, tramping and idling, are a few of the ings that are cursing our country.

Messrs. Archer & Graham have rented the Bell mill, and are now in full blast making staves and spokes. They are good workers, full of energy and push, and we wish them much success.

"Ma," said a little four year old, "I saw something run across the kitchen floor this morning without any legs. What do you think it was?" The mother guessed various legless worms and things, and then gave it up; when the little fellow said: "Why, ma, it was water."

Marshal Janot, while still a young subaltern, attracted the attention of the commander-in-chief by coolly observing, as an Austrian shell scattered earth over the dispatch which he was writing at the latter's dictation: "It's very kind of them to 'send our letters for us'."

Mr. S—the other day received a legging letter, which told a very pitiable tale. An Irish gentleman, coming in at the time, was asked what he would do in such a case. He replied, "Why, write and say that you can't give him anything, for you don't know his address."

Dr. John D. Woods has retired from the editorial columns of the Glasgow Times. Dr. Woods is a brilliant writer, and has made the Times one of the very best papers in the State. There is nothing commonplace in all of his productions. Everything is original and refreshing.

The Crawford County Democrat says: A vigilance committee at Brandenburg hung a negro, one night last week, for attempting to rape a little girl twelve years old, at Concordia, three weeks ago. The negro begged manfully, but the crowd moved him on to a chestnut tree below town, and left him on one of the limbs.

A Scotch farmer had determined, in spite of the bad times, to pay his rent, if it were his last shilling, and saying to the factor who received it, "It is my last shilling," threw down the roll of notes. The factor counted them and said, "There is £50 too much." "Ode man," said the farmer, "I put my hand in the wrong pouch."

A woman says very few men have the slightest idea how to hold a baby. And we don't suppose one man in a hundred has the slightest desire to hold one. If it is a female baby he is willing to hold it after he reaches the age of sixteen years, we've been told. The best way to hold one under six months is to hold yourself aloof from it.

Dr. Lyne recently died at Allis, Scotland, at the age of 93 years. He was a well-known physician and writer on medical subjects, and came of a very long-lived family. His father was killed at the age of 88 by a fall from a carriage, and his two grandfathers lived to be 90. These likenesses are preserved in Sir David Wilkie's picture, "Pithead Fair," one of them being the painter's uncle.

A British tourist has made uproar in Rheims. One night about 8 o'clock the town was alarmed by the sound of the tocsin, or big bell of the cathedral. The inhabitants rushed out of their houses expecting to find a revolution or a fire, but they were agreeably disappointed. The dreadful knell was merely the work of an English traveler, who having been locked up in the cathedral, thought the best way to get out would be to set the big bell going.
